Towngas “Turnip Cakes for the Community”
Delivering Warmth to More Than 2,000 Elderly with Turnip Cakes

[19 January, 2006] The Hong Kong and China Gas Company Limited (Towngas) today staged the Towngas “Turnip Cakes for the Community” event together with Hong Kong SKH Tseung Kwan O Aged Care Complex. Turnip cakes were delivered to the elderly before the Lunar New Year, bringing them festive warmth and blessings. At the event, the elderly played games, enjoyed performances along with early Lunar New Year blessings.

Towngas invited popular actress Angela Tong “Ah Ho” as special guest of the event. She joined the “Towngas Volunteer Team” and volunteers from Hong Kong SKH Tseung Kwan O Aged Care Complex in playing games, making turnip cakes, and singing songs with more than 200 senior citizens, bringing them care, love, hope for a blissful Lunar New Year.

“Towngas always encourages its employees to participate in volunteer activities. We are equally happy to see the enthusiasm our customer volunteers for their dedication, time and effort in community services. We hope that the elderly and those in need to share the warmth and joy of the Lunar New Year. We will continue to serve the community and committed to being a corporate citizen,” said Ms. Wong Sau Ying, Head of Corporate Communications at Towngas.

Towngas has prepared 2,300 turnip cakes and gift packs for the elderly in the run up to Lunar New Year in different districts.

Ms. Melissa Luk, General Manager of Hong Kong SKH Tseung Kwan O Aged Care Complex, said that her organization thought that the event was very meaningful, and that they were very happy to give their assistance to it. She truly hoped that in the future people could pay more attention to the elderly and organize similar events for them.

After the ceremony, artists and volunteers played games with the more than 200 elderly present and brought to them personally love-filled turnip cakes and gift packs, “Ah Ho” turned out to be the most popular as she cracked joker and brought burst of laughters to the event.
